It's time for the Jewish Arts Festival!

The I.J. & Jeanné Wagner Jewish Community Center is excited to continue the tradition of presenting the Jewish Arts Festival (JAF). The goal of JAF is to bring together the greater Salt Lake City community to experience the rich history of Jewish arts and culture through a variety of mediums, accessible to all regardless of age, ethnicity or station of life.

We have a fantastic lineup of events that will educate and entertain. JAF opens on November 8, with Belly Laughs: Comedy That Cooks. Comedian Joel Chasoff (The 188th Crybaby Brigade) and Chef Lior Lev Sercarz (La Boîte/ Art of Blending and The Spice Companion) present a live, 70-minute stage show featuring Joel's unique brand of uplifting, positive Jewish comedy; a cooking demonstration by Lior; and an onstage interview/Q&A with Lior, about what it's like to be an Israeli chef in the New York culinary scene.

All are welcome to experience a Musical Shabbat Dinner with the Tribeca Ensemble on November 9. A catered, vegetarian meal will be served followed by the concert. Tribeca Ensemble will open the performance with a background on Jewish-influenced music, both standard classics and contemporary pieces.

Finally, join us on November 11 for the annual Hanukkah Market. Eat some latkes and enjoy our Vendor Market with the whole family. This year we are expanding the Children's Art Yard to include a bounce house, magic show, juggler, story teller and crafts for kids.

On behalf of the JCC and the Jewish Arts Festival Committee, we invite you to participate in the Jewish Arts Festival as a sponsor. With sponsorship levels starting at $180, the Jewish Arts Festival is a wonderful opportunity for personal or corporate support. Enclosed you will find sponsorship levels and benefits; we appreciate your consideration and will follow-up in the coming weeks to answer any questions you may have.

Gratefully,
